"Welcome to the cyberspace"

your wishes come true. there's something special

- a present for you. a world of colours,

a world of shapes. everything's so real.

you can play your game all night long,

all day, all life.

welcome to the cyberspace

- we live another illusion.

the virtuality is everything you see.

sometimes you wake up from this virtual delight,

but you can't walk - your legs are stunted tonight.

your body dies, but you live your game all night long, all day, all life.

welcome to the cyberspace - we live another illusion.
