I evoke thee, by sword and fire
From the nocturnal planes
Cast forth the ancient winds, and walk thy path
As wolves cry my name

I unleash thy curse under a full moon!

I gaze through the eyes of the dragon
Summon forth the winds of pure hatred
Demons from the spectral realm rise!

I call forth and summon thee
Through the black churning seas of chaos

Carry me through the realms of the nocturne
Carry me towards the kingdom of the dragons throne

Once pass beyond the gates
Into the world of the abyss
A blackstorm rises from the depth of the seas
And whispers it's very essence into me
From the cold and dark Abyssmal Nocturne
Visions reveal pathway to the dragon throne

Under the light of a full moon I release the secrets of fire
And open the portal to the gates beyond the stars

I call forth and summon thee
Through the black churning seas of chaos

Carry me through the realms of the nocturne
Carry me towards the kingdom of the dragons throne

I evoke thee, by sword and fire
From the nocturnal planes
Cast for the the ancient winds, and walk thy path
As wolves cry my name

I unleash thy curse, under a full moon!
