As I lie here wide awake
Still remember smiles that you would make
Told me that it's okay
That it's better right this way
How was I supposed to make it through her

Our lives were blown together
Now they're far away
Couldn't last forever
Begging you to stay
But you made me believe
But you made me believe
There's more to life than what we see
So much more than there's meant to be
But you made me believe
Made me believe

Never thought I'd loose your touch
In the end it's always worth so much
Now we can never say it didn't matter anyway
Cause all that's left is memories of you

Our lives were blown together
Now they're far away
Couldn't last forever
Begging you to stay
But you made me believe
But you made me believe
There's more to life than what we see
So much more than there's meant to be
But you made me believe
Made me believe

Second time and I know what we're looking for Hurried up to just slow down
Always up for more
Life could just take it's battles
And lead me back to you
Tonight we'd share this one last laugh
For all that we'd been through

Yeah, yeah

But you made me believe
But you made me believe
There's more to life than what we see
So much more than there's meant to be
But you made me believe
Made me believe
Believe
Made me believe
