"Corpses In The Wake"

Return to the ocean
Turn to the sea

Distracted
From what we all should see
Or would have seen
These eyes aren't what they used to be
Controlling the consequence

Reacting
Resolving our own faults
Contamination can't be purified

[Chorus]
Consumed by the wave
The ocean submerged our vices
I drown in my wake
Before me the product of chaos

(Turn) run away
(To) the unbecoming
(The) fate is clear
(Sea) the end is near

[Chorus]

Giving it up
Fighting the hourglass
Watching yourself corrode
By the day and sleep through the night
Holding your breath
Fighting for something else
Leviathan comes to take us away
And end what we've done to her
