"Rise"

One part of me is there with you,
Filling the emptiness,
Bringing the truth...
Cleansing the illness in your sight,
Bringing the light in your mind.

Don't stay petrified,
Look at him, he is by your side,
Don't pretend you're something he is not,
We're all the same so lets...

Rise... lets rise,
Be strong and determined,
And you can change something.

You are what your actions are,
It defines you from the feet to the eye,
You can crawl or you can fly,
Still in the same earth we will lie,
You can't run away,
No man can change his fate,
When you feel you're going down just spread your arms and lets...

Rise... lets rise,
Be strong and determined,
And you can change something.

These are hard times, these are cursed times,
Not a moment for proving anything,
But give your best now,
Grab a chance somehow to make sure you can still do it.
I don't know a way but I'll think of something,
Sooner or later it will cross my mind,
But if we feel the same, if we think the same
Than why don't we just...

Rise... lets rise,
Be strong and determined,
And you can change something.
