Crashlander

You took your own life in your hands

You had to escape them somehow

You knew it would hurt

Pull yourself free

With the wreckage at your feet

Feel the relief for all your doubts and wounds

Will be gone

Crashlander, there's damage but atleast you're alive

The hardest thing you could have done

You've done now

It's easy from here

Turn your back on

The constellation you flew from

You are hurting, lonely

Hopeful, Happy

Pull yourself free

With the wreckage at your feet

There's a million worlds to explore

When you're ready the cosmos is yours
