Took a walk, looked around
Found the tallest hill to climb
On the crest I took a breath
Of air not shared a million times

All my head it felt so light
All my burdens fell away
I was closer to the brilliant blue
With nothing concrete in the way
You can see forever from here
You can see forever

As I lay on the grass
The speed of life began to slow
As the day it drifted past
The sky acquired a luminous glow
Everything that bothered me
Was left so far behind
All my tangled mess of thoughts
Unravelling in my mind
And you can see forever from here
You can see forever

And theres you by my side
We survived those scenes
And with you I feel alright
Wont forget how much that means
So blow another bubble
And watch how far it goes
All that worldly trouble
Is miles and miles below
You can see forever from here (3W)
You can see forever
