Come see me when its all over that'll be the day I'm clean and sober I may be a juvenile but I still know how to smile while everything seems to not be working I always find a way to walk out and leave you smirking I wont be the one to jerk you around ill always be there even when you're down Because I know I hate to see you frown. Chorus. One more day till this life is over its just so hard to try and stay Sober.

Call me later tell me it's over one more reason not to stay Sober.

Life may suck just our luck I look to the skies above hoping for a shower of heavenly love hoping to see the light I so gracefully need please lord you got me on my knees Thank You you're the only one for me.

Chorus. One more day till this life is over its just so hard trying to stay sober call me later say that its over one more reason not to stay clean and sober.
