I am the hate and love,
The War and melancholy...
From my blood I cried the storms...
From the death's divinity I'll be reborn...
Through the silence my name'll be whispered...
... under the kiss of moon... Beloved.
The sunset now fall in my form...
And the majestic night will be enthroned...

Come to me servants of lies,
And find in my feet your misery,
My tongue is the ancient nature...
That speaks between the skies and wells...

From my touch I cried the eternity...
My repulse, fuck the fallacy...
The spit of blameless Blasphemy...
This is my infinity... and ecstasy...

"Fell the signs and destroy the subordination...
Raise the Empire of our glorification...
We are One powerful stonewall...
That upon the tyranny will flow...
You will fell the wildness like a wolf..."

By ecstasy and lust,
All life is instincts...
That burns in warm veils,
As the lovers in sin...

Rape the weakness' liturgy!
And drink the wine of victory...
Nocturnal words (our supremacy...)

The cold arms of moonlight embrace my limbs...
The seductive star voice is deep in my heart...
This alignment calls an Anthem...
This invocation materialize my self The Vast... (The Unholy One)
