Many lives, many lives walk in fear of the night
Many dreams, many dreams fallen far from the light
But the truth won't hide for very long
And your faith can't be denied
And the Words of He who speaks won't be defied

Trust the Voice you hear inside your heart
Trust the Voice that leads you through life's harder
parts
Be strong though you don't always want to Courage won't be far
Trust the Voice that guides you through the dark,
through the dark

Many days, many days leave us lost and confused
Many times, we can't see the path that is true
But no sooner or no later
Than the time that's truly right
Will the wisdom of His Plan be brought to light

Trust the Voice you hear inside your heart
Trust the Voice that leads you through life's harder
parts
Be strong though you don't know His answers

Though the goal's still far
Trust the Voice that guides you through the dark,
through the dark

Can you stand with conviction in your soul?
Will you speak with the words of Hope?

Trust the Voice you hear inside your heart
Trust the Voice that leads you through life's harder
parts
Be strong though you don't always want to
Courage won't be far
Trust the Voice that guides you through the dark

Trust the Voice you hear inside your heart
Trust the Voice that leads you through life's harder
parts

Be strong though you don't know His answers
Though the goal's still far
Trust the Voice that guides you through the dark,
through the dark

Just trust the voice that's in your heart
Just trust the voice
