Every road has got an ending
Every light has got a source
Every car that moves has an engine
It feels like mine's running out of gas

Am I driving in a circle?
Do I sleep behind the wheel?
I don't wanna take a short cut
But the road I'm driving is so cold and chilly

Light, come and shine me on
Fire, come and warm me up inside

Every road has got an ending
Every mountain's got a peak
Everyone at the top has been climbing
It feels like I'll never reach my goal

I've been climbing for a long time
Or do I climb at all?
Maybe I'm too busy thinking
'Bout how steep it is so I forget to climb it

Light, come and shine me on
Fire, come and warm me up inside
Spring, come and meet my thirst
Water, come and cleanse me up inside
