How is it knew that it was you before the phone had started ringing I'm OK Not asleep I'm wide awake just watching something on TV
there's not much to say why do you call me to tease me you had your chance you had enough of loving me
I can't deny that everytime I hear your voice I fall into the same old dream I pretend that you need me as much as I need you but things aren't quite what they seem why not ignore me forget my name you want me to forgive your lies once again
so after all is said and done you're still the only one
you give me love
just let me lay beside you and give you some big fun
hey now
it all seems very simple now I'm not so cold and not so empty
'cause I can't get you out of my mind now it seems so funny when I think about the past and all the things that used to be You laugh but when I felt afraid and cold you came along and then you rescued me You got me hoping I adore waiting for the time we spend I need you more
