It feels so empty this hearts unfolding
These tears unraveling undead hatred towards you
You never known me so why'd you harm me
A dirty sin to play the victim

But it all remains the same cause you're never alone

And it's hard enough to say
What you already knew deep down would leave you empty
I remember a day
When there was no better answer to leave us with no
pain

No voice to hear me just leave me broken
With hurt Inside I still remember you too
No arm to grab me no strength to proceed
Just her to feel the void you left me

But it all remains the same cause you're never alone

And it's hard enough to say
empty
I remember a day
When there was no better answer to leave us with no
pain

empty
I remember a day
When there was no better answer to leave us with no
pain
