So when life wouldn't take all the way
What's the words that your telling to me
With the blink of an eye you can say
Anything
So take it from me
It's the only way to survive

So we sing for the ones that we couldn't save

All the while you can mend all the way
But it's turning and flipping in two
So now how can you say you're awake
While asleep
So notice we sing
To commend all the way with your words

So we sing for the ones that we couldn't save

We're alone
