Wanting to erase
Turning to life it's so great
And wondering where we've gone
But knowing that it's too late
You wanted

And as it tears a life you worry to erase all that this Stormy night is moving just to feel

You won't forget

What is it like to feel
Grabbing torches lighting everyone that feels the way
To see our heartache
What is it like to breath
When everything you do just pushes more the world
Aside you'll see the day

And have you ever tried to murder one that feels the way
That souls can cry it's moving just to feel

You wont forget

Wanting to

What is it like to steal
When grabbing wisdoms ankles moving time
Will often say you'll sing our anthem
And what is it like to heal
Know they wounded tries
A tortured mind the end of days will feel
No pain

And have you ever tried to murder one that feels the
way
That souls can cry it's moving just to feel

Wanting to
