Visit "The Bleeding" on MotoLyrics.com

So what's the reason that you've never seen this take another look inside your faith Have you ever stopped to listen to the single words that give strength
Have you ever seen a heartbreak like this or even then really cared
What a vision that we've never seen impossible to fake this

So why
Why does it bleed when you've taken all these words
around me
Now we can't repent this
So how
How can it be that the love inside that's been created is not enough to face this day

Now your blinded by the ones that tell you I can never really be in place
We examined all the visions that can finally erase me But you never stopped to ask just why you Couldn't toss away your foolish pride Now we sit here with our empty souls just trying to rebuild this

So why
Why does it bleed when you've taken all these words
around me
Now we can't repent this
So how
How can it be that the love inside that's been created is
not enough to face this day

This day
