Sitting by myself, so unaware
All the pain I put on you, be clear,
This wasn't intentional,
Promised you I'd never leave
Stories the same, I am afraid,
That I strung you along now

Standing on my own
So afraid yo walk away
Silence hides all questions

When I walk away, I walk away
Don't you know I believe in you?
How can you say, how can you say,
Nothing's wrong?

Standing on my own
So afraid yo walk away
Silence hides all questions

I used to be so alive, this is painful
Seeing you, I realise all the truth I'd never see,
Why did you bother to lie, it's disgraful.
Now I know I am better off alone

I bother to waste any more time
You're always acting belligerent

I bother to care to take time to repair the Wounds you have opened

Sitting by myself, now I'm aware
The blame rests on you
Sitting by yourself hope that you've seen
Why you're better off now
