[Verse 1]

It's always later, "uh huh", "okay, whatever"
As if this time apart between us will make it better
I'm waiting for your call in the late hours of the night
Hopin' you come around, give in and make it right
And when I say a thing you can't help but explode
Why is it when we talk you switch to defensive mode?
We talk about change but the moments yet to come
'Cause when we hit the bottom, we're quick to leave and run
All I want is Love, baby, help us make us grow
We connect on levels that nobody else knows
You lift me to my highest and you bring me to my lows
But that's just hard proof that we grew to be so close
I'm working every day trynna figure how to please you
I even wrote this song hopin' maybe it'll reach you
But for now, I sit here and wait for your call Grabbin' on my chest and leanin' against the wall

[Chorus]

There's a hole in my Heart (8x)

[Verse 2]

And this song ain't a song to attack you
It isn't all your fault, girl I know that I'm a handful
I could be sensitive, I could have my days
But what's a relationship without a little pain?
At times I drive you crazy, there's times when I'm slow
We tear each other down, rebuild and then we grow
On a rollercoaster of emotions, going through the motions
Crash and then burn, then we laugh and then learn
We ain't perfect, and I could feel it in my heart
That you're worth it, and I felt it from the start
From the first kiss, so every second you don't call
I feel it hurtin', I know for certain that I'm Deeply into you
If you're gone one moment, I'm missing you
You're the walking definition of Beautiful
And when I'm with you I'm invincible

Chorus 8x

Bridge:

I let my guard down one more time for you

One more time for you

One more time for you 2x
