

Amber Hayes

"Right As Rain"

Visit "Right As Rain" on MotoLyrics.com

I remember that second grade summer
Storm season in our home town
Sittin' in the cellar, tornado was a comin'
Didn't know where it was gonna touch down
Daddy read the bible by the Coleman gas light
How God sent a rainbow to Noah for a sign
The wind stopped blowing and it got real quiet
Momma turned to me and said

[Chorus:]

Don't be afraid when you see dark clouds
Life grows sweeter when heaven pours down
It ain't always gonna be a sunny day
It'll be alright
Right as rain

Years passed like a quick spring shower
Had to find my way in this world
Huggin' mama goodbye took an hour
A grey sky day for her baby girl
Packin' up my dreams in a little red jeep
Her face was wet when she kissed me on the cheek
I heard the thunder and I didn't wanna leave
She squeezed my hand and said...

[Chorus:]

Don't be afraid when you see dark clouds
Life grows sweeter when heaven pours down
It ain't always gonna be a sunny day
It'll be alright
Right as rain

Don't be afraid to live your life
Run barefoot laughing beneath the open sky
Life ain't always gonna be a sunny day
It'll be alright
Right as rain
It's gonna be alright
Right as rain

