Work! Earn! Spend! Buy when the price is right. No matter what's inside when outside shines bright. It controls your mind. It ends up owning you. Work! Earn! Spend! Buy more and more stuff. And nothing is enough. Get it all today before it's out of date. Come on what's the deal? You buy stuff you don't need. You follow like a sheep... TV & magazines. For your whole fucking life you're told that you're measured by what you own. If the price is right I'll sell my soul. Hello, how low?
