Blood on the walls and a chair by the fire
It's been a competitive love and desire
I'm sitting still and I'm just getting colder
Ice in my veins and a lump in my throat

I've been invited by the light of the moon

Time and time I gave in
And all you want is more
That's not what I came here for
But this time I didn't give in and I feel no remorse now that I've cut off the source

Ecstasy comes like a worm through the brain
Slightly succumbs to the fist and the pain
Not breaking silence but I've destroyed the order
Sweat pores and blood fills the void of the rain

I've been invited by the light of the moon
I've been invited by the light of the moon

Time and time I gave in
And all you want is more
That's not what I came here for
But this time I didn't give in
and I feel no remorse now that I've cut off the source

I feel like I've left you silenced
I've already lived and died once for you

Time and time I gave in
And all you want is more
That's not what I came here for
But this time I didn't give in
and I feel no remorse now that I've cut off the source
