Your name, stronger than I know
Deeper than a thousand words could say
Your name
Your name, fire in my soul
Healing for a healing heart today
Your name, your name
And my heart will bow, my spirit soar
And my soul cries out to the lord of all
To my God and king, to my prince of peace
I will lift my voice in praise
Unto your name, unto your name

Your name, all creation knows
The one who gave it life with breath alone
Your name
Your name, glory now displayed
All the earth belongs to you alone
Your name, your name
And the mountains bow, the seas will roar

And the rocks cry out all creation calls
To the holy one, to the son of God
We will lift our voice in praise
Worship your name, worship your name

Your name, higher than them all
Holy one of God, the Lord of Lords
Your name
Your name, Heavens only son
High and lifted up forevermore
Your name, your name
All the nations bow, their kingdoms fall
Every king and priest, every Prince and lord
Falling on their knee's will acknowledge you
We will lift our voice in praise
Honour your name, honour your name
