

Alicia Bridges

"Move"

Visit "Move" on MotoLyrics.com

Alec Bridges - Move

All the days gone by
The sun is setting down
What if all the holes in the sky
Were heaven looking out?
Would it see a mother without a child
Or a king without a crown?
If there was a place where all your dreams came true
Would you go?
Would you move from where you are?
Or would you hide behind your scars?
Just like you do right now
Would you still be who you are?
On the other side of the world
The sun is rising now
If I could bring you next to me now
Some way, some how
Just like the moon pulls the tides
Without the heavens crashing down
Tell me, if there was such a place
Where all your dreams came true
Would you go?
Would you move from where you are?
Or would you hide behind your scars?
Just like you do right now
Would you still be who you are?
All the days gone by
The sun is setting down
credits

from Move (single), track released 30 September 2008

Words and music written by Alec Bridges.

Acoustic guitar and vocals - Alec Bridges

Recorded, mixed, and mastered by Nate Wood

Cover art by Jenny Begin of Star Mile Designs

Cover photograph by Katie Oswald

Visit Alicia Bridges page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

