Sing and I will hear you, no matter where you are
A song to light the darkest night
And guide me from a far
And I will never be alone
Now I know you're somewhere
You're everywhere to me
You're the color in the sky
A reason to believe
And when the rain falls down, you tell a story
And I will hear you, always near you
By the boab tree

Uh uh...

Lay your arms around me, like the falling rain
Let the feeling drown me
And life begins again
And I will never be afraid
Now I know you're somewhere
You're everywhere to me
The warming of the sun upon
The earth beneath my feet
And when the rain falls down, you tell a story
And I will hear you, always near you
By the boab tree

Uh uh...

Now you're somewhere
You're everywhere to me
You're the color in the sky
And you're the earth beneath my feet
And when the rain falls down, you tell a story
And I will hear you, always near you
By the boab tree
Uh uh...
Uh uh uh uh uh...
