Every day I mop up after your bleeding heart
The only reason you even exist is because I keep you

Somebody stop that racket!

I think we have to ask the big questions
What does it want?
What is it thinking?

Every day I mop up after your bleeding heart
The only reason you even exist is because I keep you

It's all the same machine, right?
The Pentagon, multinational corporations, the police
If you do one little job,
you build a widget in Saskatoon,
and the next thing you know,
it's two miles under the desert,
the essential component of a death machine.

It's all the same machine, right?
The Pentagon, multinational corporations, the police
If you do one little job,
you build a widget in Saskatoon,
and the next thing you know,
it's two miles under the desert,
the essential component of a death machine.

Somebody stop that racket!
