For the end, the time I'm feeling host
And I'm turning it around for you
Lord, I feel I tried much more than most
And I've done the things I wanted to

It's the useless contribution
That leads to a solution for me
You don't need to search for answers
Or hide behind romances again

For that very sign, to leave this world
And I'm turning it around for you
On the edge of life, it seems so low
And you've done the things you wanted to

It's the finer concentration
Of total liberation for me
And the more that I believe in
The less that I'm receiving instead

It's the useless contribution
That leads to a solution for me
You don't need to search for answers
Or hide behind romances again

It's the finer concentration
Of total liberation for me
And the more that I believe in
The less that I'm receiving instead
