Too easy to explain

Too easy to explain

Oh, what you'll never talk about

Too easy to explain

Oh, but you'll never see the light behind an open door

Some days already all over for me

Some days already all over for me

Too easy to refrain

What you'll never talk about

Too easy to refrain

But you'll never see the light behind an open door

See the light behind an open door

Some days already all over for me

Some days already all over for me

On these nights we shine

Love ain't all the time, we learn

I'd never want it so

Too easy to explain

But you'll never

Some days already all over for me

Some days already all over for me

On these nights we shine

Love ain't all the time, we learn

I'd never want it so

On these nights we shine

Love ain't all the time, we learn

I'd never want it so

See the light behind an open door
