I would not be here tonight
If I had to choose
It's always the bigger things in life
That seem to choose you

You can say what you want
Believe what you will believe, yeah
But I'll take what I want
And see what I need to see

When I'm buried in the questions
I can't find the answers
I close my eyes and listen
Till I remember
Everything was beautiful,
Nothing seem to matter
Every day was just another day to dream

You can say what you want
And be who you want to be, yeah
And you never looked back
To the things that you had
Or the ones that you never need

Buried in the questions
I can't find the answers
I close my eyes and listen
Till I remember
Everything is beautiful, beautiful

If this is all there is
You can't wrap your head around it
If somewhere love exists
You can wrap your arms around it

Can you hear me now?
Can you hear me now?
Can you hear me now?
Can you hear me now?

Buried in the questions
You can't find the answers

Close your eyes and listen
Until you remember, ohoh
You don't need the answers
Just close your eyes and remember

Everything was beautiful
Everything is beautiful..... here
