One thing's for sure, I can't explain
Why my left and my right side - they don't look the same
Now I'm a dancer, you don't come close
With my hands in the air - my nose

'Cause what you got, I can't explain
So I pinch myself, to make sure I feel again
It could be magic, could be drag
But as long as you're here - it's fab

Pray for delay
The phone's ringing but I can wait
- yes, I can wait

I seize the day
No looking back on what is gone
Cause I've been waiting far too long

You want so much, just more and more
The announcement I made, was what you're waiting for
And with a smile I fix the rope
As long as there's pain, there's hope

There's only half of you to please
So the other half can go and rest in peace
And if you're uptight and not too lame
In a moment you'll feel the same

Pray for delay
The phone's ringing but I can wait
- yes, I can wait

I seize the day
No looking back on what is gone
Cause I've been waiting far too long
