(Steinhauer/Blaha)

"How the events of the 13th century are remembered today, and does it really have any bearing on today society..."

A country splintered by religion
Torn by anarchy
Heretics burned for their derision of the holy See

Seven, Hundred Years on

World, do you recall just what happened then Gentlemen and Gentlewomen
Let into the pyre

Seven, Hundred Years ago

Let's think
Images of war

Flashing swords, burning homes
The Albigensian Crusade
See the ruins upon the hills just seven hundred Years on

So now in nineteen eighty nine

How much do we know
Except for learned scholars
No-one knows at all

Blind
Apathy
Forgotten
A part of history

Flashing swords, burning homes
The Albigensian Crusade
See the ruins upon the hills

Just seven hundred Years on

To blind to see that religion's free Believe what you believe Established Churches still don't agree
Seven hundred Years on

Heresy a different route from mother church in Rome See us, we're hurting no-one why can't you leave us alone

Hunted
Persued
Burnt
Marched into the fire oh..... then!
