A lack of acceptance
And afraid of what is un-known
Or are you scared to lose track of your age-old and well-respected tradition

Well shove your tradition up your ass and I hope you like it
Yeah fuck your homophobia it is about time to accept it

It is time to wipe out the lines you have drawn
We do not need it anyway
Why should there be boundaries to love
We do not need it anyway

There is no room for me
And so many more with me
In a macho culture where the point is clear about sexuality
Why is it so difficult
To express yourself
Is it not normal emotion is reason enough

Or does love mean nothing at all
Raised fist fuck you

Let everyone feel and save your attitude
We don't need it anyway
Why should there be boundaries to love
We don't need it anyway
