This is how it all begins
The struggle to fight worthlessness
It lies in all of us
In the depths of all we trust
In our hearts lay envy and anguish
Envy and anguish
The feeling that there's nothing left

Can these floodgates open, loose this travesty of regret
(Let the seals be broken now)
Carry me how I am, with hope I will soon forget

As it all fades
We are freed
As we enter this day
We can now believe

As this fire burns deep within us
We must maintain control
We must keep it burning
It is what keeps us breathing
Don't lose sight, don't ever lose hope
Just keep pushing on
For what makes today won't make tomorrow

Together we will stand, tear down the walls around us
(Let these walls come crashing down)
Run for the hope in life, for all that is unexpected

This is a new beginning

As it all fades
We are freed
As we enter this day
We can now believe
