Time, where are you now?
Why can't I find?
Are you the essence of change in my mind?

Doesn't life feel prearranged,
Destined to make me choose?
But I believe I will to be

Seeing through the eyes of time
Uncover secrets of history
Experience a state of mind
Living for eternity
Seeing through the eyes of time
Feel the pain of so many years
Searching for what you'll never find
Learning to fight back your tears

No turning back
Never to see
What lies in the hands of your own destiny

And life is so strange
The eyes of time are watching me
But I believe I will to be
