"Testament Of The King"

Visit "Testament Of The King" on MotoLyrics.com

When I bid farewell to the poor life
Put me in a coffin made of stone
Place me in my grave
Do not cover my grave
Remind yourself that
There lies my father

And now the great king is dead, and I too
Shall one day die like him

It is human fate, and it makes no difference
Whether you are a king
Or a poor wood-gatherer
No one remains eternally
No one remains eternally
No one remains eternally

[Clean Vocal]

When I bid farewell to the poor life
Put me in a coffin made of stone
Place me in my grave
Do not cover my grave
Remind yourself that
There is lies my father

Never forget there is a Philosophy
Justice forgiveness and generosity

Now leave me alone, as I feel the hour of my Death is near
Leave me alone...
