Here they come, they are walking down the street
A living big sensation
And together they are making dreams come true
In their imagination
They will make it any hour now
What a celebration

They will fall in love together
and they will stay that way forever
They will wait outside together in their matching skirts forever

Here we come, we are walking down the street
A beautiful sensation
And we're telling everyone we meet Without hesitation

They will fall in love together
and they will stay that way forever
They will be picked up together making out in cars forever
