Never forget the last time
When you looked with the eyes of a child

Never forget the child in your own soul

First of all, there was this frightening sound
And after the children left the place
We were so excited to enter these dark realms

Enter these realms
Don't be scared at all

Welcome the fall
And don't be scared at all

Into these spheres, I felt the touch of your eyes
I saw the face of a truth and the meaning of lies

I felt your lips in my neck and the blade of a knife
I smelled the odour of death and a marvellous life
