

As Artifacts

"Ain't No Party Like The Donner Party"

Visit "Ain't No Party Like The Donner Party" on MotoLyrics.com

I needed time to think this through,
You took my heart and ripped it in two.
You're only human for a while,
So why spend it in denial?

It's not that I only loved her face
I needed her to be a bit deeper
With that I knew she was worth the chase
But in the end all she was was a blur

I needed time to think things through
You took my heart and you ripped it in two
But you're only human for a while,
So why spend it in denial?

You took my head and you turned it into rust
Mislead the pure; All I ever did was help you
Now all that's done, and my heart returns to dust
And all because you do what you do

But you're only human for a while,
So why spend it in denial?
I thought I had it figured out this time
But it seems like I never really knew at all

I thought I had it figured out this time
But I guess I never really knew yet, oh!

I spotted you from across the room
Our eyes locked and I had to talk to you
I made my way across the floor
But by the time I got there you'd started to dance
You started to dance, so I took your hand
I led you down a road you'd never forget
It seems so right but it looks like I played the fool
And that I'll always regret

Visit As Artifacts page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.