

As Winter Falls "Lifetime"

I see a lifetime in your eyes
As you are going into the light
Begging life to take you back
But slowly you're breathing death

I feel you in the air around me
I still hear you say goodbye
And I need you
When I think of you my heart stops
Cause I'm still wondering why

I am still waiting for another silent day
To bring you back into my empty arms
I thank you for every second of you life
I see your smile for the last time

I feel you in the air around me
I still hear you say goodbye
And I need you
When I think of you my heart stops
Cause I'm still wondering why

When I think of you my heart stops
Cause I'm still wondering why

I feel you in the air around me
I still hear you say goodbye
And I need you
When I think of you my heart stops
Cause I'm still wondering why

I see a lifetime in your eyes
