

As Winter Falls "What Lies Beneath"

Just breathing
As the world collides in front of my eyes
Denying
That this to me is a surprise
Their screaming
Is echoing inside my mind
I've been dreaming
To leave it all behind

I'm standing here alone
And I'm singing to you now
The world just feels so cold
When it's dying without a sound

Around me
The dust is falling from the sky
So quiet
Even the horizon cries
I hear it
The melody of thousand cries
And this time

I'm standing here alone
And I'm singing to you now
The world just feels so cold
When it's dying without a sound
