Unreal like the distance between us
I don't know where I end and you begin
I walk around our familiar place
But somehow it's just not the same berlin

And do you think of me sometimes?

I'm running in circles
I'm stuck in a moment
Trying to make sense
But everything's wrong

And I'm contemplating
While your promise is fading
I look at the windows
And the curtains are gone
You're not coming back home

This phone call is leading nowhere
Somehow we should have know it from the start
I miss you and our crazy conversations
Every inch of you and your peculiar art
It seems so strange to say goodbye

I'm running in circles
I'm stuck in a moment
Trying to make sense
But everything's wrong

And I'm contemplating
While you promise is leading
I look at the windows
And the curtains are gone
You're not coming back home

So now this is my life without you in the same place
I found it's all alright I'm doing all things I wanted to do

I'd give it all for you

Running in circles
I'm stuck in the moment (Stuck in the moment)

Running in circles
I'm stuck in the moment
Trying to make sense
When everything fall
I come contemplating
I look ate the windows
Curtains are gone

Wherever you are now
Wherever you are now
I'd give it all for you

Wherever you are now
Wherever you are now
I'd give it all for you
Give it all for you
