She invites me to a closet
The night glows in her eyes
And I know now what she wanted
She'd been hinting it all this time

And I don't mean to scare you
But I've wanted this for so long
To have you forever and she kissed me
And said

This is the way we communicate in the dark
This is the way we communicate in the dark
It's just the way we communicate
It's just the way we communicate

She told, she told, she told, she told
She told everyone but it didn't happen
She told, she told, she told, she told
She told everything and it finally happened

She told, she told, she told, she told
She told everyone but it didn't happen
(Well I knew that you would be around)
(Not so fast, is there anything I can do
To keep you here tonight?)

She told, she told, she told, she told
She told everything
(Well I didn't think twice about asking her)
(Because I'd heard the lies so many times
I'm starting to believe that they are true)

She was searching for attention
She told everyone but me
And I thought that she'd forgotten
Hey, well, I guess it couldn't be

And then finally one day
She built up the lust
To ask me the question
Is this real or just?

It's just the way we communicate in the dark
It's just the way we communicate in the dark
It's just the way we communicate
It's just the way we communicate

She told, she told, she told, she told
She told everyone but it didn't happen
She told, she told, she told, she told
She told everything and it finally happened

She told, she told, she told, she told
She told everyone but it didn't happen
(Well I knew that you would be around)
(Not so fast, is there anything I can do
To keep you here tonight?)

She told, she told, she told, she told
She told everything
(Well I didn't think twice about asking her)
(Because I'd heard the lies so many times
I'm starting to believe that they are true)
