Just before you woke this morning I held you in my arms
And wondered if today would be the day
I needed to be close enough to wish a second chance
But inside I knew all I could do was prey

Pray it goes away
And pray it goes away
The fact that it's not working anymore

I lie awake and think about the depths that I have gone
Adjusting my perspective and my ways
We pulled at everything we were until it came undone
And I find myself without much to say

I find myself without much more to say
I find myself without much more to say
And so I pray

Pray it goes away
I pray it goes away
The fact that it's not working anymore

So this is where I'm set to be
A mime on the sidewalk
Of cold illusion's imagery
I can't talk about it
I can't talk about it so I pray

Pray it goes away
I pray it goes away
The fact that it's not working anymore
