The cost is never earned
I'll simply dehydrate to burn
You've kissed your own wetness now
You've turned

The beast is never tamed
It's heart will never change
But you still tell yourself you were
When you weren't

With subtlety I touch you and run
With subtlety I touch you
Not to bring me back until you're overrun
Like a dear in my headlights you'll run
You'll run

A line drawn in the sand
Waiting for the wind to change
I'll leave your way

When cheating was planned
More than winning ever thought it was
I'll play your game

With subtlety I touch you and run
With subtlety I touch you
Not to bring me back until you're overrun
Like a dear in my headlights you'll run
You'll run
