If I say that you're here to answer all that I Then you say that I'm here to judge you for all that you've done
And will but I silenced you

This morning you came up to join me, enjoy the same
To share a cup of tea with a broken heart a broken heart it is
And will remain untouched

You're higher than all of this
You're higher
You're higher than all of this
You're higher

Next time we meet, you'll beat up my emptiness my willingness to lose, I'll say that you did that on purpose, your purpose is what it is
I think but you silenced me

It'll be brighter than it is now
Brighter
It'll be brighter than it is now
Brighter

The trouble is that all these songs will end up, end up like this
I'm here and you've gone so we reflecting a thought
