The empire of man, from extracted material
Built from the earth
A modern myth of metal and wood.

Home of the animal realm
Nest for every organism
Living cycle equilibrium
Rooted to the core.

The very essence of life on the planet
A disturbance is created, without remorse.

Beneath our feet
Lies the symbol of stability
On the surface
Growing lungs forestry.

The sand, the rock, the land
The perpetual beauty of mountains
The eternal solidity of stone
Will be crushed from years of abuse.

Dirt that gives us life
Ungrateful treatment
Towards the terrestrial matter
Enough is enough.

From forest fire and pollution mayhem
The earth eventually responds
By movement of the crust and separation of the ground

She will not tolerate this intoxication anymore.

Counter-attack devastation
In damaging earthquake form
Destructive volcano eruptions
Eradicate this pathetic kingdom.

Anger of the ground
Breaking the foundation of mankind
The structure collapses in pure

Apocalyptic nature fury.

Born of dust and soil, living of dust and soil
Feeding of dust and soil, dying from dust and soil.

We feed from dead earth, our death feed the earth
Humanity shall be reduced to dust.

Beneath our feet lies the symbol of stability
On the surface, growing lungs forestry.

Born of dust and soil, living of dust and soil
Feeding of dust and soil, dying from dust and soil.

Humanity shall be reduced to dust.
