

Atlas Losing Grip "Home"

We said we never would lose grip but it is hard to Always fit. It's hard to match in all situations but it's so Hard to admit. I realise that within the last years I have Seen things in a different way, since we share the same Visions, I've found belief again. You went away, I understand
Today, you just wanted to go home. I emptied
A bottle and suppressed all that I felt inside, my blind Way of handling a strife. Now fuck those old issues, I'm Proud but I want to move on. I can forgive and forget
And I know you can to. I was astray, I understand today,
What we both wanted was to find a way. I understand
Today why you wanted to go home.
