Clouds hang in the sky filling the view with a shade of Grey.

As cars are moving by polluting the air with a slimy Smell

A building is rotting away in the face of acid Corrosion.

A plane is making the sound of an enormous Explosion...

... It's a grey world...

People are walking alone, talking not to anyone.

The noise of traffic burns your ear

All senses disappear.

... Grey world... (x 4)

Dirt piling up everywhere

Cause nature's got no room to spare

Land destroyed for useless places

Trees replaced by concrete faces

... Grey world... (x 4)

... It's a grey world...
