English Translation:

Oh! When the dawn smiles, open your eyes to let in the new light.

Be thankful to the heaven for being alive another day
When the sun sigh its warm breath, to turn the world in warmth

Before we take a journey to the noon, before melting into dusty mist.

Oh! Noon's here, couldn't help but search
Life's a hectic turmoil as being human always means trouble

So, what should be done? How should we go? If we don't make it, it must be destiny.

If we've got enough time to reap, don't have to wait till the next world.

Oh! Evening's so beautiful, wanna lay here for ever.
By the time there's time to admire, don't how many days left.

The same sun is ever more beautiful because the heart's afraid

That when the dusk comes we'll... hopefully we'll not be setting together with the sun.
