English Translation:

Want to thank for knowing and understanding, for all the things you've given Want to thank for the promise that your heart will never alter
From a person who's lost in time, too tired to move on From one who's been hurt so much at the core, changed into joyful

Passed nights and days of horror that seemed to last forever
But with someone who cared for, everyday's happiness
beside you
Beginning to know sweetness and love overflowing
Starting to understand the meanings of life

Just a person and a heart, give to you all my processions
For better or for worse, never caring, never falter Will only have this wonderful you, to have and to hold, till the dying day
How long would a day be if parted from you even for a day

forever
But with someone who cared for, everyday's happiness
beside you
Beginning to know sweetness and love overflowing
Starting to understand the meanings of life

Let you hear the voice of my heart That tells you night and day that I love you

forever
But with someone who cared for, everyday's happiness
beside you
Beginning to know sweetness and love overflowing
Starting to understand the meanings of life

It's the voice of my heart singing you a song
The voice from my heart's singing a song that others can't hear
It's the voice of my heart singing you a song

The voice from my heart's singing the song that's understood only by us
