Everynight I feel the sadness come to me

But in some way it is always right here

Is the sadness cause you are not here beside me

Is the pain for your arms that I need

It's a doomer dementia... it's a need for your eyes,
looking me

It's a doomer dementia... it's a need for your arms,
holding me

In my graveyard lay the dust of all my dreams

You could be the one to bring them back to me

This feeling keeps you right inside of me

I only need that you take the best of me

It's a doomer dementia... it's a need for your eyes,
looking me

It's a doomer dementia... it's a need for your arms,
holding me

Can you see?

... Life is unfair

Isn't in my hands

I just want your eyes looking me

I can see your beauty

I can see your soul

There is nothing more that I can do

Iâ€™ll be here all the time for you

Whisper my name from the shadows

Your sweet voice will guide me back

To your arms

To your dreams

Hold me tight

Donâ€™t leave me die

You are my sweet dream

You can be my all

Close to you

I am all

In your breath

I will be Forever yours

You are my love

Don't be a ghost

Become real

Just be with me

See what I am

Kill this pain

Of loneliness

This doomer dementia

For your eyes, for your arms, for you all

Come to me, to my darkness

You will shine with your beauty

Iâ€™m alone on this world

With this pain in my soul

Bring life to my heart

Don't let me die

Bring your life to this land

Bring your eyes full of calm

Bring your arms, oh so warm

Calm my rage

You come to see me only in my dreams

Your wings are beauty, fly to be with me

This feeling bonds us, it's all that's left for me

You are the dream that gives me a reason to live

It's a doomer dementia... it's a need for your eyes,
looking me

It's a doomer dementia... it's a need for your arms,
holding me
